Bureaucracy, Anarchism & a guided tour in Jaffa 2030

The third and last evening in "Province" exhibition event series, as part of "Loving Art, Making Art" 2012.

19:00 Historical Seminar 03: Cultural Activism in Tel Aviv- Jaffa 1970-1990

Third installment in the historical research conducted in the framework of "Province" exhibition

20:00 Lecture: Uri Gordon – Anarchism, from a Political Ideology to a way of life

Nowadays, the term “Anarchism” is frequently used without conducting a deep investigation of its significance. An Israeli social activist, a lecturer at the Arava Institute of Environmental Studies and the author of: Anarchy Alive! Anti-authoritarian Politics from Practice to Theory, Uri Gordon will address this term as an ideology and a way of life.

21:00 Tour: Muhammad Jabali- Jaffa 2030

The guided tour by Muhamad Jabali is the first step of the project “Jaffa 2030”, conducted in the framework of “Province” exhibition. The tour will focus on the history, the present and the possible future of Jaffa, depicting social processes and narratives that influence our experience in the surrounding urban sphere. What kind of information is accessible to the average street wanderer and by what kind of authorities? What does this say about the agenda of these institutions and our roles as citizens? Does a neutral urban space exist? Is there a way to experience the space directly? How does the subconscious information serve as a filter to the visual spectacles we experience with our various senses?

Throughout the evening: Screenings of video works by artists around the world, dealing with the subject of “Bureaucracy”, alongside documentations of working processes by the participant artists in the exhibition. Among the participants: Broken City Lab, Maya Zack, Meir Tati and Alona Rodeh
